

Patio Room Addition

Creative Enclosures Adds a Patio Room in Narragansett, RI

Creative Enclosures, completed a wonderful patio room enclosure for our clients Tony and Ann Dequattro in Narragansett, Rhode Island. Tony and Ann live in a newly built home not far from the beach.

Tony is very particular about his home and landscaping and keeps his property meticulous. He shared with me that he was able to get left over turf from Yankee Stadium which he had installed around his property and yard. As a specialty sunroom, conservatory, patio room remodeler, Creative Enclosures works very hard at insuring the safety and cleanliness of our clients property.

We're happy to say upon the completion of the Dequattro's patio room/sunroom their grass looked just as good as when we arrived!

Creative Enclosures' Bob Noe & Tony Dequattro alongside the patio room; back of house before the addition.

The entire patio room is maintenance free with decorative "slate/vinyl" material for the base wall, energy efficient sliding and windows (complete with screens). All the glass is high performance "Conserva-glass" that will keep the Dequattro's warm in the winter and cool in the summer. Not to mention the peace of mind they have with our lifetime warranty! The patio room blends well with their home and seamlessly transitions from the old to the new. The interior height is approximately 10' to the peak, as Ann notes, perfect for their Christmas tree!
